Sr. Antoinette Demers celebrat 60th Anniversary of Service To Others

A Sixty-year anniversary is worthy of celebration regardless of the circumstances. But when the anniversary is a commemoration of sixty years of dedication and service to others, the occasion is particularly worthy of note.

On Sunday, May 2, Sister Antoinette Demers, woman, educator, musician, was honored by former students, friends, and parishioners of Our Lady of the Assumption School and parish, on the occasion of her 60th year as a member of the religious order of the Sisters of the Assumption.

Born in Southbridge in 1901, the daughter of Louis Joseph and Amanda Collette, she was one of nine brothers and sisters. According to Sister Antoinette, her calling to the religious life came while she was attending boarding school in Canada. She explained, "I enjoyed what the sisters were doing and I listened to the call." In trying to recapture her feelings, this soft-spoken woman recalled, "It was something that I felt inside. If God gives you a taste and you see the happiness in someone, then you have to answer."

While she may have had a calling early in her life, her final decision to devote her life to serving God and others was a difficult one. "When I was at boarding school they always told me I had a vocation," she said, "but I didn't want to think of it. I enjoyed life. And suddenly," she said thoughtfully, "it seemed that I had to make a decision."

Sister Antoinette entered the religious life at the age of 23, allowing her time to attend Becker College in Worcester, and to work at the American Optical Company in Southbridge. "It was a difficult choice," she said. Comparing religious life to married life, she noted, "Some people think they are in love and get married and they stay married for six months. It's done too quickly. Too young perhaps. And perhaps, if I had entered at 17, I wouldn't have stayed. It was more of a reasoning."

When Sister Antoinette did enter the novitiate, there was a period of two and a half years when she could have chosen another direction in life before taking her final vows. With her wonderful, gentle smile, and a distinctive sense of humor, she spoke of a conversation she had with the Mother Mistress. "I'd tell Mother Mistress, 'If you think I don't belong here don't hesitate to tell me and I'll go back home.'" She then added, with a twinkle in her eye, "She never told me that."

The very strict rules that once governed most religious communities have been relaxed over the years. Recalling what was perhaps the hardest rule of all she explained, "At one time we could only go home at our father's or mother's deaths or for sickness. It was very hard. For my 25th anniversary, my bothers would have wanted a celebration at home. Mother Provincial said, 'Ok, I'll give her permission to have one meal with her mother.'"

The relaxation of rules has provided members of this teaching community with the opportunity to get to know the parents of their students. "We associated less with the parents than we do now. There's a lot of good in getting to know the parents of our students. It helps us to know the families more and the difficulties that can happen. It helps if we know the background."

When asked if there were any changes she does not like, Sister Antoinette answered, "Going out too much. Sometimes you have to refuse invitations because you'd always be out, which would not be good for family life."

Perhaps the most noticeable change to the public is the absence of the traditional habits worn by nuns for so many years. While some sisters have chosen a more conventional dress style, Sister Antoinette does not number among them. Recalling that the style of habits has changed three times over the years, she said, "I think it's important to still wear the habit. That's the way I committed myself. I think there's less vanity."

Vocations to the religious life have decreased dramatically over the years. Sister Antoinette, for all her many traditional values, is not surprised. "To me, if I'm going to live the way people are living in the world, I might as well be just as good in the world. Perhaps a lot of people are better than we are. We have a number of people that are very devoted. Vocations might increase in another way, but as far as community, I don't think so. There are many little circles, little branches of community life. There are a lot of people who want to give themselves to God in different ways, charitable work, working with the poor."

Sister Antoinette, at the magnificent age of 86, is not even semi-retired. Her day begins at 5:30, with most of the early morning hours being spent in prayer and reflection. From 8:30 to 4:00 each day, she spends her time at the school, filling in occasionally for School Principal, Sister Bernadette Sweeney, teaching French to the second grade twice a week, teaching reading in the Montessori School, and doing a myriad of other tasks from operating the copy machine to walking downtown to run errands.

The evening hours provide her with a little time for relaxation, catching up on correspondence, spiritual reading, and an opportunity to recite her rosary. Sister Antoinette even admitted to having a favorite TV show, "Jeopardy". When asked if she was able to answer many of the questions, her modesty would not allow her to reply.

Sister Antoinette has taught for all of her 60 years in religious life, having spent 25 of those years in Millbury. "When I first came here in 1927 I taught music. I had 21 musicians. I was here for two years then. I came back in 1951 and stayed until 1954. I came back

There was a double celebration at the Assumption Sisters' Convent on Saturday, May 2, as Sister Antoinette Demers (right) was honored on the occasion of her 60th Anniversary and Sister Marie Eva Gagne (left) was honored on the occasion of her 50th anniversary as a member of the Sisters of the Assumption. Sister Marie Eva, who is enjoying her first year in Millbury, is a former Math and Science teacher.

Sutton Selectmen Re–Elect John Reed as Chairman

By Karen Potter

SUTTON. Sutton Selectmen (and five other people) braved the last gasp of winter last Tuesday, April 28th, to conduct their workshop meeting.

The first order of business was to elect officers for the board. Larry Moore was recognized by Chairman John Reed and voiced his opinion that the Selectmen have made unprecedented progress over the past year. He attributed the attention to a broader range of topics, and the stepped up pace of Selectmen's activities, to the able leadership of John Reed.

Moore said that the Selectmen have the opportunity to break with the traditional rotation of the Chairman's duties. He suggested that the Chairmanship remain with Reed and stated that the town of Sutton would benefit from his leadership.

Carl Licopoli observed that for the Chairman to do the best job possible he should be nearby during the day, and he agreed that Reed would be best for that reason. He continued, however, by suggesting that Wally Johnson be elected as vice chairman.

Licopoli framed a motion to that effect and it passed unanimously. Frank Gatto was elected as Clerk of the Board.

John Reed described the deplorable condition of the Manchaug Library building and, after a short discussion, it was decided to request that Library Trustees see that the damages are rectified, the funds to come from their own budget.

The Selectmen went into executive session, after which the meeting was adjourned.

NOTES FROM CUB SCOUT PACK 109

At our April Pack meeting, Millbury Police Officer Kevin Wood and his German Shepherd, Otto, presented a program for the Cub Scouts and their parents. This presentation was enjoyed equally by the children and the adults. We learned a great deal about the K-9 program and how it is used here in Millbury. Many thanks to Officer Wood.

The following badges were awarded: Kristofer Clawson and Jay Lavoie earned their Bear Badge, and David Lavallee earned his Wolf Badge. The Arrow of Light, Cub Scout's highest award, was presented to Gary McMullen, Stephen Thompson, Keith Stokowski, Andrew Mason, Mark Potter, Jeffrey Harris, Jeremy Girouard, David Bengtson, and Jeffrey Magnuson.

A sign-up night will be held in May. New and returning boys should plan to attend. The date will be announced soon.

Housing Options for Seniors

MILLBURY. The Millbury Public Library presents its second informational program of special interest to older adults and their families. This program is entitled "Housing Options for Seniors". It will be held on May 13 at 2:00 and May 14 at 6:30, at the Library, 128 Elm Street.

"Housing Options for Seniors" will be presented by Jean Moltenbrey, Housing Analyst with the Massachusetts Department of Elder Affairs, and Irene Sullivan, Director of the Millbury Housing Authority. They will discuss various types of housing for the elderly and how to choose and access them. Registration is necessary. To register, call 865-1181.

MILLBURY HIGH SOFTBALL RESULTS

By Ron Stead

MILLBURY. On April 27, Millbury beat Grafton by a score of 9 to 1. Millbury scored in the first inning on singles by Beth Krumsiek and Jodi Bush, followed by a line drive home run over the left fielders head by Robin Rosseel. After three hitless innings, Millbury exploded for five more runs in the fifth inning. Michelle Nadeau doubled in two runs and Marie Labreck tripled in three runs during the fifth inning outburst. Contributing one hit for Millbury were Jodi Cronan, Ellen Ward, Kathy Ayotte, and Lisa Lube.

Millbury continues to be strong on defense. Against Grafton, Michelle Nadeau made two outstanding stops at third base, and Jodi Bush made a diving catch of a fly ball at first. Jodi Cronan pitched her best game of the season allowing three hits while striking out six and walking only three.

On May 1st, undefeated Millbury traveled south to play undefeated Uxbridge; the winner to be in first place in the Southern Worcester County League. The first five and one half innings proved to be a tight pitching duel between Millbury's Jodi Cronan and Cheryl Blanchard of Uxbridge. Uxbridge led by a score of four to three when, in the last of the sixth inning, the roof fell in on Millbury. During that inning, Uxbridge sent eleven batters to the plate and scored six runs. The final score was Uxbridge 10 and Millbury 3.

Beth Krumsiek had one hit and two runs batted in and Marie Labreck had one hit and one run batted in. Robin Rosseel had one hit. Jodi Cronan, Michelle Nadeau, and Lynne Picard each scored a run for Millbury.

Robin Rosseel played a strong game in the field and Jodi Cronan pitched well, giving up six hits and striking out two. Millbury ends the week with a record of five wins and one loss.

Assumption Parish Begins Planning Program On Church Renewal

MILLBURY. Our Lady of the Assumption Church, one of the oldest Catholic parishes in the Worcester Diocese, is in the beginning planning stages of a program of church renewal.

Known as "RENEW", the program will be established in the Fall as a three year effort to guide the "spiritual growth of the people as a vibrant faith community." Planning for this will begin immediately and reach all parishioners early in October.

The RENEW Core Group, consisting of eight coordinators, Sister Mary Ellen Bulman, Father David Carr, Sister Lucille Cormier, Suzanne Heroux, Andrea and Richard Laport, Janice Perry, and Harriet Sweet, will implement the RENEW program at Assumption.

The diocese offers training for parish leaders throughout the years of RENEW. Representatives were sent to one of these training sessions on Saturday, April 25, at the Sacred Heart of Jesus Church in Hopedale. Besides the Core Group, the Renew committee members who participated in this training were: Christine Caputi, Donna Gibeault, Ruth Hobey, and Margaret Wunchel. They will now take back what they have learned, and develop and train their respective committees.

The Reverend Monsignor Mederic J. Roberts, pastor of Our Lady of the Assumption Parish, explained that RENEW is "aimed at renewed Christian living through teaching and witnessing to the word of God, developing vibrant faith communities, and establishing justice formation and action."

Worcester Academy Presents Jerome Kern Musical Comedy

WORCESTER. The Drama Society of Worcester Academy will present Jerome Kern's rarely performed musical comedy, Very Good Eddie, May 8th and 9th. The production was the hit of the 1915 Broadway season. Performances will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the Warner Theatre at Worcester Academy, 81 Providence Street, Worcester. There is no charge for admission.

Complete Babysitting Course

MILLBURY. The Millbury Public Library congratulates Shana Bartelloni, Danielle Beauregard, Ann Boudreau, Jennifer Buron, Beth Comeau, Jill Ermanski, Michelle Goodreau, Amy LaForte, and Joanne LaVallee for their successful completion of the Library's 1987 Babysitting Course, sponsored by 4-H. This course was an eight week program that included classes in child development, first aid, fire prevention, safety and nutrition.

Health Study and Soil Testing Discussed at Task Force Meeting

MILLBURY. State regulatory agencies held the spotlight for most of the Lewcott/Polyclad Task Force meeting held on April 29th. The first major issue followed comments by Robert Knorr, Chief of the Environmental Epidemiology Unit at the Department of Public Health who informed the committee that a final report on the lung cancer mortality study should be available to the public in May.

In response to a question from Millbury Awareness Group member, Vito Ventura regarding other forms of cancer, Knorr stated "Since we're looking at air emissions, we are principally interested in lung cancer. We don't have a reason to suspect that the chemicals involved would cause other types of cancer. If we're talking about skin contact, then we might be talking about something different." Knorr added that his department would be willing to give the awareness group any assistance in doing a health survey in the neighborhood.

State Senator John Houston (D-Worcester) then questioned the Department's methodologies stating, "Their (DPH's) scientific approach is under serious question across the state. About five months ago I asked the commissioner and other officials to come up with a different scientific methodology when conducting studies. You people are public health scientists working for these taxpayers. They want a study that can help them understand their health problems and you're studies aren't doing that."

Houston then commented that the majority of people view the DPH's results to mean that the residents who complain about health effects are making it up. "That's what happens," he explained. "It comes out in the paper that the State DPH says that there is no conclusive evidence that Lewcott causes cancer and everyone else, whether it's in Millbury or in the general community, that reads the Worcester paper says, 'Those people must be quacks down there. What are they so upset about?' I hear this all the time. I know that's not your intention but that's what's happening."

Houston then reported that he advocated a methodology for clinical intervention that would enable public health scientists to meet with residents and their doctors and try to develop a clinical "case by case analysis".

To The Editor:

As many people are aware, there is a barge, loaded with 3100 tons of garbage, which left Islip, Long Island two weeks ago, seeking a site on which to dump it. It traveled to North Carolina where it was refused, then to Louisiana where the governor threatened to call out the National Guard to stop it, then to Mexico where, once again, they were stopped after being told the Navy would act to prevent them dumping it there. Finally, they were told it could not be dumped at sea, because the U.S. Coast Guard would prevent that. At this writing, it is still wandering around, searching for a place to dump their garbage.

Well, I say, "Welcome to Millbury". We already have the Sewage Treatment Plant for the Blackstone Valley. We have Signal Resco, which will receive trash and garbage from countless towns in central New England and, of course, the City of Worcester, with the long term health effects yet to be determined. Now, we are to have the honor of hosting the expansion of Lewcott Chemical, who has every intention of coming here after being thrown out of Worcester, after those concerned citizens, recognizing the health hazards, were successful in removing them.

I say, "Welcome to Millbury," New York garbage. We would prefer garbage. After all, it would only smell for a little while (but of course, we're used to that).

Just take Lewcott in trade. Granted, you will have an unknown quantity, a proven bad neighbor, and a possible long term health threat. Interested?

While we're about it, the people in New Braintree don't want a prison there. Well, we could take that too. They could use the Clearview Country Club, which we have been deprived of. It has the added plus in that we wouldn't have to build the inmates a golf course, it's already there.

Welcome to Millbury, "The Dumping Ground of Mass."

The Wedding ring...
Symbol of eternal love from Egypt. Gold rings were used as currency. A groom showed he trusted his bride with his money by placing a ring on her third finger. It was believed love traveled from there to the heart.
Our experienced bridal consultants and expert seamstresses will be sure to make your day very special.

State Representative Paul Kollios (D-Millbury) then asked Knorr, "Are you telling us that DPH is incapable of making a connection between contaminants in the air and a particular irritation of the skin, or a rash, or eye problems? Can't you get closer and focus on that?"

Knorr replied that it would be possible to analyze it in a way that would allow them to identify "if there is a greater risk of these types of health effects in the area directly around the plant than in areas further away from the plant." He noted that such a survey had not been conducted in Millbury.

Knorr then added that it may be possible to contact some experts in the area who would be familiar with the specific chemicals being used by Lewcott and Polyclad. He explained, "In Worcester, following the analysis of acute health effects such as skin and eye problems, in connection with what we knew about the air data and in connection with what we knew about the lung cancer study, those pieces together told us there seemed to be some problem going on in the area around Lewcott. We couldn't say conclusively what it is. But from a public health standpoint, we felt that it led us to reach the conclusion that something needed to be done to minimize the risks of that community. And that's how we'll approach it here."

Millbury Awareness Group spokesperson, Carol Perry, then addressed Knorr, reading from a Safety Data Sheet on the effects of Phenol. "Chronic exposure to low concentrations of phenol may cause digestive disturbances, nervous disorders, skin eruptions, and death due to liver and kidney damage. It is also irritating to the eye, nose and throat.' Now you know this is the chemical being emitted. You know they have no pollution controls. Can't you step in and say, 'You can't do that to the neighborhood. You must shut down,'?"

Knorr replied that if the emissions meet certain regulatory requirements that are set by the DEQE, "and others", then that is what the DPH will usually abide by.

Kollios then asked, "If they (DPH) determine that a public health hazard exists because of some operation taking place by a business enterprise, if they can determine without any measure of a doubt that the operation process causes a health hazard, they have no authority except to turn the data over to another regulatory agency?

Fogel informed the committee that the results of soil samples taken in October and December of 1986 may be flawed. According to Fogel, "We have a laboratory up in Lawrence that does the analyses on the soil samples. I've been informed by the lab that the methodology by which they analyze soil samples was changed during the last year in a way that they weren't confident about."

He then explained that the new methodology may have caused the soil sample results to show high levels of acetone and methylene chloride. Fogel announced that the DEQE returned to Lewcott on March 30th for re-testing. He informed the Committee that the Lawrence Lab will use another methodology "that they have a different level of confidence in."

Houston asked, "If the soil was removed, where are your new samples coming from?"

Fogel replied, "From other parts of the property that are under question."

Houston countered by saying, "The only way you can tell if it was as bad is if you test the stuff that was originally there."

Fogel answered that they are still testing to discover the lateral and vertical extent of the contamination.

Kollios then stated, "You have a methodology that's flawed. The suspected polluted material is now gone and you can never test it again. Now you check something out that may not be polluted. That doesn't tell us if in fact the first block of soil that was removed was or wasn't polluted."

Houston added that it would be necessary to go to Michigan to retest the soil.

Fogel replied, "It's a good thing that that soil is now in Michigan. The risk is that is was possibly contaminated.

The following issues were also discussed at the meeting:

1. It was recommended that negotiations between neighbors and company officials continue.
2. In response to a question asking if Lewcott intended to expand any of its operations to the Windle company on Canal Street, Lewis replied that the company does plan to seek additional space but not necessarily at Windle or in Millbury.
3. Concerns expressed by South Main Street residents with respect to a logging operation on Polyclad property were addressed. Millbury Fire Chief, Thomas Nault, expressed dismay that he, as forestry warden, had never been notified of the logging by either Lewcott or Polyclad officials, or by the logging operators. He promised further investigation.
4. The committee was informed by Lewis that any reduction in processes would depend on customer's needs.
5. The committee was informed by Nault that he has sent Lewcott a letter outlining 15 points that he would like addressed by the company with respect to their contingency plan. Nault also requested that Lewcott and Polyclad provide his office with a map of their properties and all the areas surrounding them within a half mile circle "so that we will know specifically what areas and what communities would be impacted in the event of a major environmental problem in that area."

Rep. Moore Assists Feds In Study of Mandated Programs

BOSTON. Representative Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge) who has been a leader in the legislative efforts to limit the cost and administrative effects of state laws on local communities, was recently interviewed as part of a Federal study of mandate programs. The Uxbridge lawmaker was recommended for the study by former State Auditor John J. Finnegan because of Moore's expertise on the issue.

At the request of Sen. David Durenburger (R-Minn), the federal government's General Accounting Office (GAO) began the study last summer of the approximately 18 state mandate programs across the country, including the program at the State Auditor's Division of Local Mandates. Sen. Durenburger has submitted legislation that would establish a mandate program between the federal government and the states and their localities, and is interested in reviewing the experiences of existing programs.

Upon review of the preliminary findings, the GAO returned to Massachusetts for further study at the Division of Local Mandates. Several factors were indicated as distinguishing our program from other states; the requirement for upfront action; responsibility for mandate determination vested in an independent constitutional officer (the Auditor), and a field service program. The GAO is also reviewing mandate programs in California, Colorado, Michigan, Illinois, Tennessee, Florida, and Connecticut.

When the GAO report is released later this year, legislators and local elected officials will gain new insight about programs in other states and the potential need for a federal mandate reimbursement law.

Sutton Students among Delegates to Annual Student Government Day

UXBRIDGE. Randy Dumont and Kristina LaChapelle of Douglas, Diane Becker and Liz Karagosian of Uxbridge, and Jeff Nedoroscik and Elizabeth Smith of Sutton were delegates for their respective high schools to the Annual Student Government Day at the State House in Boston recently. Diane Becker of Uxbridge was chosen as Student Attorney General while the other students assumed legislative roles. Rep. Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge) who was himself a Student Government Day Delegate in 1961, served as host for the students.

Lynne Picard receives Most Outstanding Athlete Award and Scholarship from Greater Media Cable

WORCESTER. On April 29, Greater Media Cable held its third Annual Outstanding Athlete Award Banquet at the Sheraton Lincoln Inn in Worcester.

Thirty-eight Scholarship Nominees, among them Lynne Picard and James Tuttle of Millbury, were presented with Certificates of Recognition. The evening's festivities culminated with the presentation of the Second Annual Gregory J. Collins Memorial Scholarships to Millbury High Student, Lynne Picard and Doherty High student, Philip J. Bolduc.

Lynne's many athletic achievements include her participation as Captain of the softball team for four years, captain of the 1986-87 basketball team, and captain of the soccer team for three years. In addition to her many athletic accomplishments, Lynne is an honors student, a member of the National Honor Society, vice-president of the senior class, a member of the Student Advisory Committee, a Representative to both the state and local student government days, and the recipient of the D.A.R. Award. In her free time, Lynne works on the school newspaper, "Reflector", and the yearbook staff.

It was announced that Lynne's athletic, academic, and community achievements resulted in her being chosen to receive Greater Media Cable's Most Outstanding Athlete Award and Scholarship.

Conference on Hearing Impairment To Be Held At Worcester State

WORCESTER. "Between Two Worlds", a conference on hearing impairment, will be held Friday, May 22, at the Student Center of Worcester State College. The program focuses on resources available to the deaf and hard of hearing, and features several presentations by local and area specialists in the field.

The keynote address will be delivered by Barbara Jean Wood, Commissioner of the Massachusetts Commission for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing. Other presentations include a session by Warren T. Hanna of the group Self Help for the Hard of Hearing (SHHH), and a lecture by psychologist Michael Harvey, Ph.D., on "The Therapeutic Process of Redefining One's Hearing Impairment."

A panel presentation and question and answer session will conclude the conference.

"Between Two Worlds" is co-sponsored by the Worcester Sensory Impairment Committee and Worcester State College, with support form the Visiting Nurse Association, Elder Home Care, Worcester Executive Office of Elder Affairs, and Worcester County Hearing and Speech Organization. Registration will be held the morning of the conference from 8:30 to 9:00. Pre-registration by May 14 is requested.

To pre-register, send your name and address and a check for $10 payable to Sensory Impairment Committee, to: Sensory Impairment Committee, c/o Visiting Nurse Association of Central Mass., Inc., 120 Thomas Street, Worcester, MA 01608-1280. For additional information, contact Karen Bernhardt at 756-7176, ext. 106.

What's the Difference?

By Pat O'Leary & Larry Ham

HOW TO PLAY: The answers to the two clues rhyme and the beginning consonant sounds are switched. For example: What's the difference between a neckwear fastener and a metal pan for baked desserts? One is a TIE PIN and the other is a PIE TIN. Sound counts, not spelling.

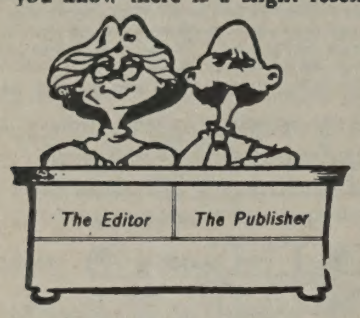
CONFUCIUS SAY: "Those who try to play games with the Great Spirit will soon find themselves on the outside looking in...."

AND AWAY WE GO...How about that 1st anniversary issue? A collector's item! How about the "Most Wanted List" on the edit page? That was Ma and Pa Barkers' photo at the bottom - you know there is a slight resemblance.



All kidding aside, we're proud/pleased to be a contributing "writer" to this paper. We will keep on a' truckin' as long as the Editor gives us the green light. When the light turns red we'll get off the road. We thank you all for your past support/comments. Now friends, on with the show!

IN POOR TASTE: Dick Gregory, a former comic, now a rebel without a cause (or maybe he still has one going), made the following comment, "We sure do kill some lovely animals to make coats for some ugly people." I kinda like that.

ROW, ROW, ROW your boat. There's a gal in New Jersey who is building an Ark in a church parking lot according to the scriptural measurements. She will have to have a lot of help and rain to get that 86 foot long, 20 foot wide, 65 foot high Ark out of the church parking lot. At last report, she has got to move it on out. Noah! Are you listening? (I can't even put a bookshelf together and this gal has built an Ark. But, the town says it has to go. Noah didn't have to worry about zoning in his days.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

TO ALL inhabitants of the Towne of Millbury!

WHEREAS Millbury seems to be attracting all kinds of trash plants, chemical plants, and trash for all over the state, and

WHEREAS the name of said Millbury is not an appropriate name for a town to have within its territory all these traffic producing, air polluting edifices,

NOW THEREFORE, be it ordained that the Town name of Millbury is hereby, forthwith, called either Dumpbury, Mass. or Trashbury, Mass., and therefore order that all mail be so addressed.

The Honorable
John Q. "Clean Air" Public,
Trashbury, Mass.

WHAT WAS THAT? A bird? A plane? It certainly wasn't Superman passing by. There was a splash on the windshield of a plane coming in for a landing; the pilot was surprised, dumfounded. What went wrong? They found out it was an eagle, soaring high above, who dropped, no not doo-doo, but a large fish. Gee, you never know. It's a good thing elephants don't fly. Dumbo! Are you out there?

ON THE SPORTS SCENE...Shed ye not a tear for Marvelous Marvin and the other guy, what was his name? Listen! They both came out smelling like roses. About 10 to 11 million dollars apiece! Hagler got 10 million for losing. Now we all know what's next. They're teasing us already with a "possible" rematch. Bull! And they say wrestling is pre-planned, rehearsed. Imagine what the money grabbers will gross in a rematch? Over 100 million. What a show! What a farce! What a shame!

AN AGING WOMAN was asked if she ever got lonely living alone. "What do you mean?" she asked. "I live with four men (good grief!). I wake up with Charley Horse, I have breakfast with Arthur Itis, I go through the day with Will Power, and I go to bed with Ben Gay!" Right on, honey!

YOU GIVE A GUY a cup of coffee and what do you get in return? On his way out of a rectory in Worcester, after receiving a cup of coffee, sandwich and a "God Bless You", some guy turns around and steals the Madonna in her shrine in front of the rectory. Shame!

HE DIDN'T HAVE a luxurious soap opera setting, he never begged for millions, he never said God is coming after him if he didn't raise 8 million. All he had to work with was a blackboard and an "angel". He had deep penetrating eyes, a captivating, honest voice, not like those loud-mouthed ding dongs on the TV tube who condemn other religious beliefs except their own. He had a sense of humor, never had an unkind word contra anybody. What the world needs now is another Bishop Fulton J. Sheen. He wasn't a charlatan. He was, in my opinion, the real McCoy. God Love You.

HOW ABOUT that X-rated donut shop in Chelsea? They're trying to get a permit to make it legal. A cup of coffee will cost you $1.00, so will a donut. A topless donut shop. Good Grief. What's next! We doubt if the aldermen will give permission for such a joint.

CHARLIE the cat is back, but he didn't stay around long. He looked nothing like the cartoon of a few weeks ago. He looked tired, worn-out, disheveled, despondent. I think the honeymoon is over for Charlie. It was just too much. But there was I thought, a smile on his kisser as if to say, "Twas fun while it lasted".

IT'S TIME NOW to take PeeWee out for a walk. Although it's snowing like mad, the poor guy has to go out for his constitution. He's a Miniature Dachshund so he may have problems in eight inches of snow, but we know he'll manage. It's also time to say, until next time, "good friends, take life one day at a time. Keep in touch with the Almighty at all times." Peace! Shalom!

Your friend, Joe M.

GOLDEN AGERS UPDATE

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

Members of Millbury Woman's Club, Inc., will celebrate "It's a Woman's World" at the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs' annual convention May 11-14 at Sea Crest Hotel, North Falmouth.

The local delegation will include President, Pat Taraskiewicz and 1st Vice President, Joyce Vanderwart. Nancy Beatty, MSFWC president, will welcome Phyllis Dudenhoffer of Indiana, first vice president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who will speak Tuesday evening before the traditional Parade of Presidents.

Scholarship and award presentations will highlight the three day meeting, during which the Millbury Woman's Club will be honored for 75 years as members of the Mass. State Federation of Women's Clubs. This award will be given at a luncheon on May 12th. Workshops on free enterprise, money management, and health, will be of special interest.

A prayer breakfast on Thursday will conclude the 95th annual meeting of the 17,000 member organization.

Some time ago, we mentioned an exquisite hand-sewn quilt made up of 99 antique squares, done by several members of the Woman's Club and put together by Anne Perkins and Zoe White. This quilt is now completed and the Club will be raffling it off for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund. Each year, the Club has given six $500.00 scholarships to local graduates. Raffle tickets will be on sale at the "Pie and Plant Sale" on May 8th and throughout the summer. The Quilt will be given at the September meeting.

ST. BRIGID'S WOMEN'S CLUB: Members of St. Brigid's Women's club are reminded to get their dinner reservations in to Mrs. James Carney or Mrs. Vyto Morkunas, co-chairwomen of the Communion Supper. This event will be held on Thursday, May 21. The menu choices are Chicken Cordon Bleu ($13.30), or Schrod ($13.80).

again in 1963 and stayed until 1969. Then, from 1972 through now. That," she noted with pride, "gives me 25 years in the school."

Reflecting on her love of music, Sister Antoinette recounted that she had served as Assumption church organist for many years. She also recalled her days singing in the choir at Notre Dame Church in Southbridge. "I always had music in school," she said, "and I always enjoyed singing. When I was in the choir they would always call me to sing the solos."

Sister Antoinette reflected somewhat sadly on the changes that have taken place at Assumption and in education in general over the years. "Teaching was different years ago," she explained. "We were teaching half a day in French and half a day in English here (Assumption). Children were more attentive then."

She also spoke of an increasing problem with homework assignments. "Years ago you never had any trouble with homework. The assignment was given and it was done with few exceptions. We never had to send warning slips; now we do."

Sister Antoinette also expressed her views on modern day family life where economic and social conditions have often led to changes in what many consider "traditional families". "If the parents are always gone," she said, "there is no family life. It's hard on the children. When we talk to the children about family life and the way it was years ago, the children are surprised."

When asked if the children of today are as respectful as they once were she replied, "The children are respectful here because we insist on it."

Looking back over her 60 years as a religious, Sister Antoinette has no regrets. In fact, she said, "I had 60 years of happiness. I enjoyed everything I did. I always tried to do my best. I wish that more could enjoy the happiness that I do. We're dealing with so many children, and you can support so many just by the attention and encouragement that you're going to give them."

Sister Antoinette has no plans to retire. "I like to be in school," she said. "I like to be with the children. I could have retired but I enjoy the children so much."

Because Sister Antoinette is a very modest woman, one who avoids flattery and attention, she probably will not like this article, just as she was not particularly looking forward to her day of celebration on Sunday, for all the notoriety that it would bring.

Sister Antoinette Demers embodies all those qualities that made religious life so attractive to many young women in years past. Her selfless devotion to others, her love of children, her very gentle ways, encompass the intended spirit of religious life. And just as she has experienced great happiness over the past 60 years, she has in turn provided all with whom she has come in contact, a measure of that happiness.

A steady stream of visitors came to pay tribute to Sister Antoinette at the Assumption Parish Hall on Sunday.

Mother's Day

MAY 10 1987

Rep. Moore To Receive "1987 Special Preservation Award"

UXBRIDGE. Representative Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge), has been selected to receive the Massachusetts Historical Commission's "1987 Special Preservation Award" for his leadership role in gaining Congressional designation of the "Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor," according to State Secretary Michael J. Connolly, Chairman of the Massachusetts Historical Commission.

Moore, who is Chairman of the Blackstone River and Canal Commission, will receive his award at the luncheon session of the Second Annual Massachusetts Preservation Conference at Harvard University, May 15, 1987. Lt. Governor Evelyn F. Murphy will be the principal speaker at the conference which has as its theme, "Environmental and Economic Prosperity: Towards A Consensus Growth".

The legislation designating the Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor was signed into law by President Ronald Reagan on November 10, 1986 following an intensive lobbying effort by Moore, and other officials and residents in both Rhode Island and Massachusetts sections of the Blackstone Valley. The National Heritage Corridor designation was, however, actually the culmination of a fifty year old dream. It was in 1936 that a national park was first proposed for the Blackstone River to provide a major public works environmental project to ease the effects of the "Great Depression".

Moore, however, turned the dreams and discussions of a park along the Blackstone River into reality following his 1976 election to the Massachusetts Legislature. For the past eleven years, he has been in the forefront to obtain funding and provide leadership for the planning of the Blackstone River and Canal Heritage State Park, and more recently, for the National Heritage Corridor designation.

His efforts have results in the authorization of $5.5 million by Massachusetts, $1 million by Rhode Island, and $1.25 million by the Federal government. Additional funding of between $2 million and $7 million is currently pending in the Massachusetts Legislature. More than 1200 acres have already been set aside for park development, and park design is well underway.

Heritage Hall of Honor

UXBRIDGE. The Blackstone Valley Homecoming Committee will establish a Heritage Hall of Honor. The first year, they will induct twenty-two (two from each town) deceased nominees from the Blackstone Valley's past history. The second year, they will name eleven (one from each town) additional inductees, and from the third year on, up to five such people will be added. They will also annually name a living citizen to the honorees.

Any resident of a Valley town may nominate either a past citizen or one presently living in the town to be honored, by writing a resume of his or her qualifications in less than 500 words and mailing the nomination to the Blackstone Valley Heritage Week Committee, Box 174, Uxbridge, MA 01569. By a vote of the combined Heritage Homecoming Week Committee members, the 1987 honorees will be determined. They will be named at a Homecoming Week event to be announced. For purposes of the nomination, nominees must be present or past residents of the following towns: Blackstone, Douglas, Grafton, Hopedale, Mendon, Millbury, Millville, Northbridge, Sutton, Upton and Uxbridge. All nominations must be received no later than August 15.

The Millbury Public Library Needs Your Help

There are two important bills that will be presented on the floor of the State Senate and State House of Representatives that will effect the quality of public library services throughout the Commonwealth. Millbury Public Library and the Millbury community stand to gain directly if these two bills are passed.

The bills are H.5141 - An Act to Improve Public Libraries and S.1272 - State Aid for Regional Public Library Service. The first of these two bills, An Act to Improve Public Libraries, is designed to provide funding for: 1. new and innovative library projects; 2. expansion and renovations of older library buildings, and 3. computerized network resource sharing for all size libraries.

If this legislation is passed, the Library will be awarded two grants. It will receive a grant of $8,200 for the purchase of non-print materials for children and adults. The Library will be able to build its collection of video cassettes, audio cassettes (including books on tape), records, and filmstrips. This grant will also provide money to purchase the necessary storage units to house these various collections.

The second grant that will be awarded to the Library if this bill passes is a grant for $5,000. This would allow for the purchase of computer hardware and software necessary to access machine-readable bibliographic database which is designed to: 1. provide information and inter-library access to patrons through a computerized network resource, sharing with libraries throughout Central Massachusetts; 2. verify patron's requests for materials; 3. provide patrons with information on the location of items requested and their availability; and 4. process new materials as quickly as possible, getting them out into circulation.

The bill, State Aid for Regional Public Library Service, S.1272, proposes a 30% increase per capita appropriation to the three regional systems that provide services and materials to public libraries in their regions. The Central Massachusetts Regional System provides Millbury's public library with various services and materials such as inter-library loan services, video cassette and large print materials, staff training and administrative workshops.

How can you help? You can help by writing our State Representative and Senator, urging them to support this all-important library legislation that will help raise the quality of public library service throughout the Commonwealth. Please write or call: Senator John P. Houston, State House, Rm. 518, Boston, MA 02133 (722-1485); Representative Paul Kollios, State House, Rm. 22, Boston, MA 02133 (722-2140)

UPCOMING

May 13 at 2:00: Housing Options for Seniors This is our second informational program of special interest to older adults and their families. Jean Moltenbrey, Housing Analyst with the Mass. Dept. of Elder Affairs, and Irene Sullivan from the Millbury Housing Authority, will discuss various types of housing for the elderly and how to choose and access them. Registration necessary.

May 19 at 10:00: Working by Studs Terkel. This is the last book in our book discussion series "Working". Professor Barry O'Connel will present an interesting discussion of this 1972 bestseller. If you've missed any of our earlier programs, join us for this one. Maybe it will whet your appetite for our upcoming book discussion series in the Fall.

GOLDEN AGERS UPDATE

By Lillian C. Sheehan

MILLBURY GOLDEN AGE CLUB: President Alfred Bazin reminds members of the Golden Age Club that dues are now payable and should be brought to date by June 1st.

NEWPORT TRIP: The trip to Newport, Rhode Island will be on Wednesday, May 20th. The cost for the day ($35.00) includes round trip motorcoach transportation, escorted tour of the city with native Newport guide, Newport Harbor sightseeing cruise, luncheon at a fine Newport restaurant, and one mansion tour. All reservations must be in by the May 12th meeting. Please see Lillian Sheehan to firm your reservation.

BEST WISHES to Linnea Stead for a speedy recovery. Cards will reach her at University of Mass. Hospital.

THANK YOU: As usual, the VFW outdid themselves. Ray Chasse and his committee is to be congratulated for the find job they did putting on the "May Day Breakfast". And a very sincere thank you to all who worked so hard to make it the success that it was. The whole affair spelled "efficiency plus". Guests' names were taken as they entered the hall, then they were assigned to a particular table, all of which were numbered. Each table had its own waiter who took your order and served you. It is no wonder that they were able to serve so many people with a minimum of confusion. The menu was varied and bound to please each one. What a pleasant way to greet Spring - enjoying a delicious meal with friends and neighbors. Again we say "Thank You".

"Pets Are Wonderful"

MILLBURY. As part of the Millbury Public Library's successful "Pets are Wonderful" tribute, the library is asking children and adults to participate in its "Name the Kitty Contest". Participants are asked to help name the Library's favorite "little kitty", a fluffy gray she-kitten with round, playful eyes. Her pictures are on display in the children's room at the Millbury Public Library. Entries are being accepted through the month of May. The winner and winning name will be announced on June 12.

The winner of the contest will win a copy of the Audubon Society's Field Guide to North American Mammals. This field guide is filled with 182 pages, in full color, showing your backyard animal friends such as the fox, squirrel, eastern chipmunk, woodchuck, and cottontail, and the forest dwellers in your nearby woods.

Senior Citizens Conference

UXBRIDGE. Representative Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge), in cooperation with local Councils on Aging and area businesses, has announced that registration forms are now available for the Ninth Annual District Senior Citizens' Conference. The event is scheduled for Friday, May 15, from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at Patrick's Function Hall, Route 16 and 146 in Uxbridge.

As in the past, this informative program which annually draws nearly 400 senior citizens, will be provided at no charge due to the generosity of local businesses.

An interesting program of speakers on topics of interest to the elderly is now being planned. The complete program will be announced in the near future.

Registration forms have been mailed to last year's registrants and are also available from area councils on aging.

Youth Watercolor Exhibit

MILLBURY. The Millbury Public Library invites the Millbury community to attend the opening of its Youth Watercolor Exhibit in the children's room of the Millbury Public Library, at 128 Elm Street, on Tuesday, May 5, at 6:30 p.m.

THANK YOU

The Linden Senior Citizens want to thank all who baked and helped us at our food sale and mini flea market.

HIGH SCHOOL DIALOGUE

By Roger Desrosiers

TELEGRAM & GAZETTE STUDENT ACHIEVER AWARD

Lynne Picard, daughter of Karen and Roger Picard, has been selected as Millbury High School's Telegram and Gazette Student Achievement Award recipient. She is a member of the National Honor Society, Student Advisory Committee, and is vice president of the senior class. She has also been a member of the basketball, softball, and soccer teams, serving as co-captain of each. As a Junior, she won the Excellence in History Award and has received the annual academic awards since her sophomore year. This year Lynne won the D.A.R. Good Citizens Award and Greater Media Cable's Student Athlete Award (she was chosen from among thirty-eight nominees from the communities serviced by Greater Media Cable to receive a $1,000 scholarship). Lynne plans on attending Boston University with a major in pre-medicine. All student achievers will be honored by the Telegram and Gazette at a dinner on Thursday, May 14.

SOPHOMORE CLASS DANCE

On Friday, May 8, the Sophomore Class will hold a dance. In order to divert our attention from the present weather patterns, the theme is Beach Party Dance with Hawaiian shirts, jams, shades, etc. (not including sand). The dance will be held in the high school gymnasium from 7:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. Sophomores Scott Pease and Michael Tift will be the DJs. Admission is $3.00.

SENIOR FINALS AND LAST DAY

Next week, May 11-15, the Seniors will be taking their final exams. On Wednesday, May 13, the Advanced Placement Exam for English will be administered to those students enrolled in the A.P. English. And yes, the Seniors will have their final day of high school classes on Friday, May 15.

PLANNING AHEAD

The Spring Concert for the High School Band and chorus will be on Monday, May 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The Project Fair, which displays student work in the Industrial Arts Department, Home Economics Department, and Art Departments, will take place on Wednesday, May 20 in the gym from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. The public is invited.

The Junior Prom will be held on Friday, May 22, at the Hogan Campus Center from 7:00 p.m. to midnight.

Youngsters were "jumping for joy" at the first Annual May Day fair held on Saturday at the Sutton Elementary School on Boston Road.

As this young girl can attest to, there was something for everyone to enjoy at the Raymond Memorial Congregational Church Variety Sale held on Saturday.

From the smiles on the faces of these workers, it appears that everyone had a wonderful time at the Linden Apartments food sale and mini flea market held on Saturday, April 2. Left to right: Margaret Sharp, Jeannette Dunn, Edith Army, Ann Rano, Bea Despard, and Evelyn Lindberg.
